

THE CASE AGAINST THE GRAND REPRESENTATIVES

(Two men go up to the first row of Gr. Reps...have them stand, using ribbon, tie wrists of girls together and march them to form a line.. either in the West, or the East, where ever there is room)

PP: Worthy Matron, I have serious charges to bring before this chapter..

WM: What are the charges brought against these ladies sweet and fair ?

What crimes have they committed ?
Who have they wronged...and where?

PP: (takes a drink) W.M.- I represent the injured husbands Who have suffered much and long.

These ladies are now Grand Representatives
AND EVERYTHING 'S GONE WRONG!!!

WM: Be specific in your charges !
State exactly what offends each man!
Be done with idle complaining!
Be as exacting as you can!

PP: Their homes have been neglected...
A quiet evening by the fire is a thing of the past!

1st Husband: Meals have been neglected
Even the coffee's kind of cold
Since these women have been appointed
Grand Rep's, so I've been told.

2nd: Things just aren't quite the same
Always sandwiches for supper, you see.
And the IRONING, its just never done!

3rd: Now Worthy Matron, you must have some idea
Of how very busy officers can be.
Committee meetings and planing,
Get to-gether by the score.

4th: Rummage sales and parties parties,
All these and many more.

5th: It's "Please to go" "Please to come"
And it lasts throughout the year.

6th: They add fuel to the flames of fire
Saying "Be cheerful now, there's a dear".

W. Matron

Worthy Matron

*Grand
Charter
Living
File*

read 11/10/66 for Willa Leighton Honor's Night

Jeanette King W.

Worthy Patron: Now, W.M. these men are fooling
They're really proud as punch,
Each told me not long ago
That he had a kind of a hunch
That these Grand Rep's were-quite a bunch!

Past Matron; You know each man manages...
Each is really quite a boss.
For the women to lose their help and efforts would really mean a loss.

2nd P.M. For the men to bring this suit is really hard to understand.
There have been many, many nights
They were out, "Playing just one hand".....

3rd P.M. Or days spent in putting a small white ball upon the green
Evenings spent in silent awe
Before the magic T.V. screen!

(Men huddle & talk Quickly) (then return to seats)

P.P. Worthy Matron; my clients have instructed me
These charges immediately to withdraw.

(Women taken to seats and untied)

P. P. Now I will mention this,
I know that it is quite true,
You menfolks just pitch in,
Help your ladies see this through!