

DEDICATION OF LABYRINTH RUG

Tonight we will dedicate our new Labyrinth rug that fills our Chapter with beauty. and as we dedicate we tell the story of weaving faith and love and harmony's fair glow.

Adah: In this lovely ray of blue we see the violets peeping through The sword and veil a message give that we through faith must ever live, And be like Adah free from shame and have no blot upon our name.

Ruth: With the Jessamine of gold Ruth's teachings of her life unfold
The sheaf reminds us we must care enough to gather here and there provisions as we do our part, each with a meek and humble heart.

Esther: The lily with its petals white Is just a symbol of that light
The Crown and Scepter that unite Give us the power to shield the right

Martha The dainty fern of nature's lace to us will always give a trace of that assurance Jesus gave of life and love beyond the grave
The Broken Column stands to say That life may be but for a day

Electa AND may the Petals of the rose Give us the courage to enclose Within ours hearts the lions power
And may the cup teach us to be so free
In love and charity.

W.M. So to the daughters, widows, wives, sisters and mothers of this Chapter Service of fidelity and moral courage faithful demands of honor and justice Service to royalty and power Faith in the hour of trial and hope of immortal life, and the servicae of charity and hospitality.

Prayer.
